

Exceptional Undergraduate Research Recognized at Research Day at the Capitol

- What: The Research Day at the Capitol awards ceremony recognizes exceptional undergraduate student researchers from around the state who will present poster summaries of their work at the event. First-, second- and third-place awards will be distributed in the research intensive and community colleges categories in addition to a grand prize.
- When: Posters and students available in the morning – Awards Ceremony 1:30 p.m., Monday, March 29
- Where: Oklahoma State Capitol Blue Room, second floor
- Who: Twenty-one student researchers from 15 Oklahoma colleges and universities, Chancellor Glen D. Johnson and Dr. James Wicksted, Oklahoma EPSCoR associate director.
- Why: Research Day at the Capitol is a celebration of the excellent undergraduate student research that is conducted on Oklahoma's college campuses. It is an annual event sponsored by the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education, the Oklahoma Experimental Program to Stimulate Competitive Research (EPSCoR) and the National Science Foundation.