

Educating Americans for a World in Flux: Ten Ground Rules for Internationalizing Higher Education offers a general rationale for international education and recommends specific strategies for internationalizing institutions. Campus leaders have found it useful for discussions with faculty groups and boards of trustees, among others.

The Ten Ground Rules:

1. Require that all graduates demonstrate competence in at least one foreign language.
2. Encourage understanding of at least one other culture.
3. Increase understanding of global systems.
4. Revamp curricula to reflect the need for international understanding.
5. Expand study abroad and internship opportunities for all students.
6. Focus on faculty development and rewards.
7. Examine the organizational needs of international education.
8. Build consortia to enhance capabilities.
9. Cooperate with institutions in other countries.
10. Work with local schools and communities.