The focus points of global education are the relationships of the world's cultures and systems and the connections of human beings and their common fate, regardless of the national boundaries within which they live.

Infuse global education into your subjects by using a new teaching tool developed specifically for Oklahoma teachers. The global teaching resources cover all subjects and grade levels and are aligned with PASS standards.

As an educator, you can visit www.okhighered.org/oasis and:

- discover suggested activities for incorporating global materials into the classroom;
- link to Web sites that share global education tools;
- find relevant economic and career links;
- access lesson plans; and
- read helpful hints.
