Oklahoma State University (as of April 6)

Employees: All classes at the Stillwater and Tulsa campuses will be delivered online for the remainder of the spring semester. To comply with Governor Stitt's executive order, effective March 25 at 6 p.m. through April 15, all buildings on campus will close to visitors. Staff and faculty will continue to provide services through telecommuting and, for some, on-campus work to support essential and mission-critical functions. For staff and faculty members over the age of 65 or vulnerable individuals with serious underlying medical conditions, options for telecommuting will be prioritized. However, if there are no options for telecommuting, these individuals will be provided with administrative leave, as well as leave provided under the Families First Coronavirus Response Act once enacted. For staff and faculty who are unable to telecommute and are not in an on-campus essential/mission-critical position, administrative leave will be provided.

Students: All classes at the Stillwater and Tulsa campuses will be delivered online for the remainder of the spring semester. Effective March 25 at 6 p.m. through April 15, all buildings on campus will close to visitors. Staff and faculty will continue to provide services through telecommuting and, for some, on-campus work to support essential and mission-critical functions. If access is needed to a building during this time, please contact an adviser, supervisor, or dean.

Housing: OSU strongly encourages reducing occupancy in on-campus housing for the rest of the spring semester. Students who must maintain a physical presence on the Stillwater campus must provide their reasons and agree to a health screening by OSU's Health Services. OSU developed a schedule for students to move out over a 12-day period (March 23 – April 3), that staggers time slots and limits the number of students who could move out each day in order to practice safe social distancing in buildings. Students who cannot or do not want to travel back to Stillwater to retrieve their belongings at this time can request an extension that will be granted and then work with Housing and Residential Life to schedule a time in the future. If a student is returning to their same room next year, they do not need to move their belongings out. OSU will provide a pro-rated refund for housing.

Commencement: Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, Oklahoma State University's May commencement ceremonies will be held in Stillwater on Dec. 11-12. An online RSVP will be sent to the May graduating class. For those unable to participate in the December events, the committee is exploring options to recognize them online or at other future ceremonies.

Travel: All university-affiliated international travel for students, regardless of location or nature, has been canceled, including summer study abroad trips. Faculty or staff international travel is also currently prohibited.

Fall 2020 Enrollment: Most in-person services on campus will be greatly reduced in partnership with the City of Stillwater. OSU will provide many online services for students while they are away from campus, including but not limited to: Academic Advising, Bursar, The Office of Scholarships and Financial Aid, and The Division of Student Affairs. As spring classes resume online and summer/fall 2020 enrollment begins, the Registrar's Office is eager to support students. Priority enrollment for summer and fall 2020 has begun. Students can find their enrollment date in the Notes section of their Student Profile in Self-Service or on the Office of the Registrar page.

Community Support: The OSU Diagnostic Laboratory is a partnership between OSU Medicine in Tulsa and the Oklahoma Animal Disease Diagnostic Laboratory (OADDL) in Stillwater. The OSU Diagnostic Laboratory is housed in the OADDL building on the Stillwater campus. Thanks to the partnership with OSU Medicine, the lab has become CLIA certified to conduct human diagnostic testing. Currently, human testing is specific to the COVID-19 virus. Health care providers who would like to submit samples to be tested can find step-by-step instructions and necessary forms on OSU's Coronavirus Diagnostic Laboratory website.

University of Oklahoma (as of April 6)

Employees: To comply with Governor Stitt's March 24 Safer-at-Home order in response to the COVID-19 crisis, the University will further reduce operations to essential services beginning Thursday, March 26 through April 15. This applies to all three campuses. This situation is evolving, and the University's needs and response may change at any time. All employees who do not perform in-person essential services on campus are directed to telecommute to the extent their duties can be performed remotely. Supervisors can direct employees to perform duties outside of employees' normal responsibilities that are related to their work and can be done remotely, including training or cross-training for other departmental duties. All employees who do perform in-person essential services are expected to continue working on campus and should check with their supervisors about their schedule. Essential services are functions and duties that should be done on campus and should not be deferred during a public health emergency; these duties should be performed continuously or resumed quickly following a disruption. Benefits-eligible employees in non-essential roles who are unable to telecommute, and cannot be assigned other responsibilities, will continue to be paid. They should submit their time as Administrative Leave-COVID in coordination with their supervisor. Employees who are not benefits-eligible are not eligible for Administrative Leave. If an employee has unscheduled or scheduled paid time off (PTO) during this event, the time should not be changed to Administrative Leave. The employee should continue to report their time as Paid Leave.

Students: OU Norman - classes will remain online for the remainder of the semester. OUHSC - students enrolled in HSC programs have received direct communications from their colleges about online instruction and modifications to clinical and community-based instruction. OU Tulsa - Norman-based programs will remain online for the remainder of the semester, HSC programs will receive direct communications from their colleges regarding both classes and clinical rotations. The counseling center will remain open during the semester and can provide services by phone or ZOOM. OU is currently working on a pass/no-pass grade option to help adapt to the current, extraordinary circumstances with details forthcoming. OU is activating an emergency financial assistance program to help students who are being presented with unique financial challenges at this time. OU requests that all OU researchers prepare for an orderly ramp down of all nonessential on-campus research by close of business Tuesday, March 24. Effective 5 p.m. this Tuesday, March 24 and until further notice, all OU research and creative activity requiring individuals to work on campus, in university-owned facilities, or in the field will be suspended, with rare exceptions as to perform essential research functions as defined on the website. All in-person events on all three campuses are suspended through at least July 31. This restriction includes events that are not University-sponsored as well, including conferences, campus, symposia, and social gatherings. This does not preclude small internal meetings, where social distancing should be practiced. The OU Athletics Department has suspended all athletics competitions, as well as all out-of-season practices and workouts, until further notice.

Housing: On-campus residential housing at the Norman campus will be closed for the summer until August 1. This does not apply to Kraettli and Traditions apartments. Only students with extenuating circumstances are permitted to request exemptions from moving out. Students that left housing for Spring Break were directed no return to campus until scheduling a move out date to occur no earlier than 14 days after Spring Break (April 6) with the purpose of adhering to CDC recommendations in regard to social distancing and space occupancy. This time has been extended to the end of April/early May in accordance with the stay-at-home order issued by the Mayor of Norman and Governor of Oklahoma. Move-out protocols are in place to mitigate risk. OU HSC Housing residents at the University Village Apartments are permitted to remain in their housing locations without interruption. Move-out protocols are in place to mitigate risk including: a) systematic timeframes for students to sign-up that limits amount of people per floor and during opposite times nearest floor mates; b) key drop in lockboxes to minimize staff contact; c) hourly sanitizing of elevators and targeted cleaning of high traffic areas; d) limiting number of student guests in the buildings. OU is providing appropriate pro-rated refunds for those students with housing and food service contracts, with details to follow.

Commencement: OU will offer graduating seniors a virtual commencement ceremony on May 8 and in-person ceremonies on August 8-9. The school's virtual ceremony will be at 7 p.m. on May 8. The names of graduates will be announced as their photos and degrees are displayed online. Participants are encouraged to wear their caps and gowns and accessories for their photo submissions. All May 2020 graduation candidates, whether they participate in the virtual ceremony or not, may attend the rescheduled in-person ceremonies on August 8-9 in the Lloyd Noble Center.

Travel: For all employees, students, resident physicians, and mission-critical campus visitors/vendors – If you have returned from domestic or international travel in the last 14 days, you must complete a screening for assessment and clearance PRIOR to returning to campus. Domestic travel is defined as travel outside the state of Oklahoma. Please note that campus is closed to visitors and vendors who are not considered mission-critical. OU employees, students, and resident physicians: please complete the online COVID-19 Travel Screening Form (found on the OU COVID-19 website) as soon as possible. Mission-Critical Campus Visitors/Vendors: Contact the appropriate campus for a screening (Norman Campus – 405-325-8732; OUHSC – 405-271-2577 or employee-health@ouhsc.edu; OU-Tulsa – 918-660-3102 or TulsaStudentHealth@ouhsc.edu). All University-related air travel, domestic and international, has been suspended.

Fall 2020 Enrollment: Understanding that current financial situations may be uncertain for students and families, OU will not place registration holds for students who miss their minimum payment in March. With fall 2020 enrollment windows opening in late March and April, OU hopes this delay will give students time to focus instead on their continuing courses and enroll in necessary coursework for next fall.

Community Support: OU Medicine and its academic partner, the University of Oklahoma Health Sciences Center (OUHSC), along with the Oklahoma Medical Research Foundation, have launched a multifaceted strategy to begin testing samples on campus as soon as possible. Oklahoma Medical Research Foundation (OMRF) scientists are teaming with the OU HSC in an emergency effort to process COVID-19 tests. OU Medicine is preparing mobile emergency rooms, located near the Emergency Room entrance of OU Medical Center, 700 NE 13th St., to help medically screen urgent and emergent patients for COVID-19. OUHSC has launched a research collaborating with Pure MHC, a biotechnology company, to work toward the development of a vaccine for the COVID-19 virus.

Contact for Health-Related Questions: If you have been in close contact with an individual diagnosed with COVID-19, call or email your campus health clinic: Norman – Goddard Health Services Nurse Line – 405-325-8732; OUHSC – 405-271-2577 or employee-health@ouhsc.edu; OU-Tulsa – 918-660-3102 or TulsaStudentHealth@ouhsc.edu. If you begin experiencing symptoms that could be consistent with COVID-10, please remain home and contact your campus health clinic for further guidance regarding restrictions to return to campus. Please contact your primary care provider with any personal medical questions and for guidance concerning your specific symptoms.

Please allow additional time for processing of requests. Where applicable, meeting by telephone or other virtually-enhanced environment is strongly encouraged. There was also an appeal process implemented for those who were denied their initial request to remain. Langston developed a schedule that students could sign up to move-out in order to maximize social distancing. NSU will control move-out through strict guidelines and scheduling. The University Center will have limited access for grab and go meals for those students who are cleared to stay in housing. All computers labs, libraries, and the bookstore will be closed as NSU closes down as many buildings as possible for the next 21 days. Gatherings of ten or more people are discouraged. All in-person meetings and events with greater than ten attendees, on all campuses, are suspended until further notice. The GAC has suspended all spring sports for the remainder of the year. The J.W. Martin library is available to students who must remain on campus and the Academic Success Center is available by appointment only. The J.R. Holder Wellness Center is closed until further notice. Computer labs will be available for students to use during this time (please see the NWOSU website for location hours). The residence halls will remain open to those who are in need and the housing staff worked to post information about social distancing and maintaining proper hand washing hygiene. Food service implemented grab and go meals and adjusted meal times to ensure quality food service and adequate time for cleaning. NWOSU has made a bold effort to encourage students to check-out of campus housing facilities and go home for the remainder of the semester. Students are encouraged to call or email to set up an appointment to retrieve their belongings and check out of the campus housing facility. Appointments will be staggered to keep numbers in each building at a minimum. NWOSU has allowed students to do this over the remainder of the spring semester as to prevent many students from coming back to campus at once and NWOSU is not encouraging students to come back quickly to do this. Students are requested to contact Housing at (580-327-8418) to arrange times to pick up personal belongings. NWOSU will provide a pro-rated refund for those moving out of residential halls.

New registrations for events such as conferences through June will be suspended until further notice.

Fall 2020 Enrollment: Students are expected to be able to contact their adviser and enroll for the upcoming summer and fall semesters. Online enrollment, with approval from advisers, may be submitted during this time.

Community Support: NWOSU's Charles Morton Share Trust Division of Nursing donated personal protective equipment to Integris Bass Baptist Hospital to aid in the nationwide shortage. With Northwestern's nursing program using alternative instructional delivery methods for the remainder of the semester, an abundance of these items were no longer needed to complete coursework. More than 700 items were donated and included particulate respirator masks, surgical masks with face shields, surgical masks with ties, ear loop face masks, yellow isolation gowns, isolation packs, and training equipment.

Housing: Students are actively encouraged to move their belongings and remain off-campus. OPSU has set a date of April 12 to move all students off of campus. Students are required to schedule their checkout to limit exposure and keep gatherings below the CDC recommended thresholds. Students who must stay on campus because they have no alternatives will be moved to housing facilities that allow for proper social distancing and self-isolation, who live on campus must make arrangements to remove their belongings and check out and practice social distancing at this time. All students are required to contact the housing office upon return to the OPSU campus and must be screened for symptoms by the school nurse or the statewide hotline. OPSU will assist all students who must remain on campus because they have no other option for housing. OPSU will continue to provide all students who are not able to leave campus with grab and go meals at the University cafeteria and will continue to look for ways that make their stay on campus during these unprecedented times as comfortable as possible. Rogers State University (as of April 3)

Employees: To comply with Governor Stitt's statewide "Safer-at-Home" executive order, RSU will begin reducing operations to essential services. Reduced services will remain in effect until at least April 15, 2020. Because this situation changes rapidly, the University needs may change. All employees who can perform services under the University's telecommuting policy should continue to perform their duties. Supervisors can direct employees to perform duties outside of employees' normal responsibilities that are related to their work and can be done remotely, including training or cross-training for other departmental duties. All employees who perform in-person essential services are expected to continue working on campus and should check with their supervisors about their schedule. Employees performing essential services and identified in the Executive Order as "vulnerable individuals" should take additional precautions and telecommute to the extent possible. Those individuals over the age of 65 and anyone with a serious underlying medical condition are considered "vulnerable individuals". Essential services are functions and duties that should be done on campus and should not be deferred during a public health emergency. These duties should be performed continuously or resumed quickly following a disruption. Benefits-eligible employees in non-essential roles who are unable to telecommute, and cannot be assigned other responsibilities, will continue to be paid through. They should contact their supervisor and submit their time as Administrative Leave – COVID-19. Employees who are not benefits-eligible are not eligible for Administrative Leave. If an employee has unscheduled or scheduled annual and/or personal leave during this event, the time should not be changed to Administrative Leave. The employee should continue to report their time as Paid Leave.

Students: Effective Monday, March 30, and for the remainder of the spring 2020 semester Rogers State University will deliver all courses electronically. The university will extend spring break by one week, March 23-27, for students only. Remote instruction will begin the week of Monday, March 30. Students are strongly encouraged to remain off campus, if possible, and are instructed to conduct university business remotely by phone or email. Effective immediately, all university-sponsored events are cancelled through the end of the spring semester. This does not include regular business operations that require fewer than 10 participants. All RSU campuses will reopen for students, faculty, and staff as scheduled on March 23. Students are required to make an appointment directly with the faculty member, department, or service area. All existing and approved outside vendors and contractors may continue regular business operations. Exterior doors to all buildings will remain locked throughout the day. Guests wishing to visit one of RSU's campuses for any reason must call the campus prior to the visit and follow all issued guidelines. All students will continue to have access to the university food pantry.

Housing: RSU is currently in the process of moving students off campus by March 31, unless they apply and qualify for an exception to stay on campus. Students were allowed to return and retrieve their belongings. Students were instructed by text to complete a COVID-19 online screening tool to ensure it was safe for them and others to return to campus. RSU has emailed residents several guidelines from the CDC. Only students whose academic success would be hindered by being forced off campus are being allowed to stay. Even then, these students are having to pass online health screenings and sign agreements to adhere to social distancing best practices and will be moved to ensure only one resident per housing unit. RSU is requiring students to set up a move-out appointment before coming to campus to allow RSU to control the number of people in the common space of each building to comply with social distancing. RSU will provide a pro-rated refund to students who leave housing at this time.

Commencement: Out of an abundance of caution, commencement and all graduation ceremonies are postponed. RSU is actively exploring ways to honor graduates and their achievements at an appropriate time.

Travel: All university-sponsored travel, out-of-state or international, is suspended until further notice. Individuals returning from domestic or international travel may not return to campus or attend off-campus university-sponsored activities or events until they complete a screening and possible self-quarantine period. Domestic travel includes any travel outside the state of Oklahoma. Those returning from domestic or international travel, please notify your supervisor and complete the online screening form. You must wait for approval before returning to campus or attending off-campus university-sponsored activities or events. If your screening is still in process, you may not return to campus until your screening has been approved.

Community Support: RSU has donated all of its PPE supplies locally to Hillcrest Claremore and Utica Park Clinic. RSU has put into place additional support to assist students with hardships as a result of the growing COVID-19 impact. In a response to student need, the RSU Foundation has established the Hillcat Heroes fund. The fund will provide urgent one-time financial assistance for current students who have suffered severe economic, medical or similar hardships. All students are welcome to the university food pantry. To schedule a time to pick up food, please call Residential Life at (918) 857-7956.

Contact for Health-Related Questions: Please contact your primary care physician. If you do not have a primary care physician you may call the RSU Student Health center at (918) 343-7614.

Southeastern Oklahoma State University (as of April 1)

Employees: Beginning Thursday, March 26, and until further notice, only essential personnel as previously identified by supervisors in the unit's Pandemic Response Plan will be working on campus. Others will be teleworking, while other employees will be on call. All full-time benefits eligible employees will continue to receive normal pay during this time. There are different employment policies regarding hourly, part-time employees; SEOSU is working through all options regarding continued employment. Human Resources is currently preparing a FAQ for distribution. Employees should contact their immediate supervisor regarding work schedules and other questions. To comply with the Governor's directive, campus buildings will remain locked and access is limited to individuals who perform essential duties as identified by the immediate supervisor and there will be restricted access to campus buildings until further notice.

Students: Southeastern Oklahoma State University is moving to fully online course delivery for the remainder of spring semester 2020. Students not currently taking online courses will have Spring Break extended one week, with students in current online courses resuming class on March 23. All remaining students will start online coursework on Monday, March 30. The Student Union will close March 25 at 7 p.m. and remain closed until further notice. To comply with the Governor's directive, campus buildings will remain locked and access is limited to individuals who perform essential duties as identified by the immediate supervisor. The GAC has suspended all spring sports for the remainder of the year. All large public gatherings will be suspended during the same period. All events on campus, either University-related or held by external groups, are suspended. Southeastern is assessing ways to help students who may need technology assistance as courses are transitioned to online.

Housing: Through March 25, 2020, Southeastern recommended that students leave campus and had students scheduled to check out March 26 and 27. Following the first confirmed case of COVID-19 in Bryan County on March 25 and the "shelter-in—place" directive, SEOSU started recommending that students not return to campus to check out, leave their belongings, and check out at a date to be determined by the University and student. Check-out procedures will follow social distancing, the use of gloves and sanitizer, students being required to handle their own personal belongings and no direct contact with staff, closed public restrooms in halls, limited "visitors" to only those assisting the students with move out, and shifting custodial care to repeatedly sanitize frequently touched spaces and empty trash. SEOSU will provide a pro-rated refund for students who move out of residential housing during this time.

Commencement: Spring graduation ceremonies will not take place in May. Southeastern is discussing possible modifications and options that will allow them to honor graduates and celebrate their achievements at an appropriate time. Southeastern will engage with spring graduates and current students to develop these alternative plans.

Travel: All travel for University-related business or academic purposes is suspended unless such travel is deemed absolutely critical to the University and pre-approved by the pertinent Vice President or other Executive Officer, and the President.

Fall 2020 Enrollment: Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, pre-enrollment has been delayed until April 6 to allow students and faculty time to make adjustments to the campus changes. April 6 – Priority pre-enrollment for currently enrolled Seniors and Graduates. April 13 – Open pre-enrollment for New and Continuing students. Adviser approval is still required before enrolling. While in-person advising is not available at this time, there are a couple of different ways to meet with your adviser: videoconference or email. If you do not have an adviser, you may visit the Advising Center website for assistance. Southeastern is changing to the Colleague ERP system for fall 2020 pre-enrollment. This means that Summer 2020 pre-enrollment will take place in Campus Connect like previous semesters, and fall 2020 pre-enrollment will use Colleague Self-Service. This pre-enrollment period may take a little extra time due to the two systems; however, our future pre-enrollments will be much easier once we are only using Colleague Self-Service. The Registrar's Office has created training videos to guide you through the Colleague Self-Service system, found on the SE website.

Community Support: No updates at this time.

Several offices are providing services via email and phone. SWOSU will implement a Temporary Telework Plan. This plan will be in effect only as long as necessary to respond to the challenges caused by COVID-19. Directors, in consultation with their respective Vice President or other member of the Executive Council, will make arrangements so that those employees who can perform their work at home can do so as long as such action does not compromise the operations of the institution. For those employees who have job functions that cannot be performed at home, supervisors will develop individualized plans to adhere to creating flexible and asynchronous work schedules, social distancing, and minimizing multi-person meetings.

Fall 2020 Enrollment: Bursar enrollment holds have been temporarily removed. SWOSU has temporarily removed these holds so that students with a remaining balance may enroll for summer and fall courses. It is SWOSU's hope that this will assist students' progress towards degree completion. Students wishing to enroll for summer and fall semesters may do so by visiting the Self-Service site through Single Sign On or contacting their adviser.

Community Support: SWOSU donated a large number of protective masks to area hospitals for health care workers. "SWOSU has a large number of health-related disciplines so we fortunately have a large supply that we typically use in our lab areas," University President Randy Beutler said. "The hospitals work with so many of our students, and we felt it was appropriate to help our medical friends in Western Oklahoma." SWOSU has donated supplies to Great Plains Hospital in Elk City, Weatherford Regional Hospital, and Canadian Valley Hospital in Yukon.

Housing: UCO is requiring students to vacate housing facilities with community bathrooms. Any remaining students are being moved into apartments or hotel style rooms that eliminate social contact with others. They are leaving facilities with private bathrooms (such as their apartments) open. UCO has eliminated social gatherings, closed lobbies, set up quarantine rooms, made dining centers carry-out, provided hand sanitizer in hallways, and increased cleaning of facilities. UCO is having students fill out a form to cancel their contracts and get a refund. In this form, UCO will have students sign up for a time to get their belongings. They will actively manage this process to ensure there are not too many people back at once.

Commencement: Plans for alternative commencement ceremonies are underway. UCO will communicate these plans once they are in place.

Travel: Currently, UCO is restricting travel to any area with a CDC Level 3 or above travel warning. Students, faculty and staff involved in affected university-sponsored study tours/programs have been contacted directly regarding university protocol. Roger Webb FSI. The UCO Foundation is raising funds to help students experiencing unexpected hardships during the COVID-19 pandemic. Since launching March 25, the UCO COVID-19 Emergency Relief Fund crowdfunding campaign has generated more than $32,000 from donors. The UCO Foundation matched funds dollar-for-dollar up to $20,000, and the UCO Student Association matched up to $10,000. The relief fund offers limited emergency financial assistance to current UCO students who are unable to meet immediate, essential expenses because of temporary hardship related to an unexpected situation. The fund is designated to offset short-term financial need and is not intended to replace or supplement financial aid.

Employees: Eastern will implement a remote work format for employees. This plan will be in effect as long as necessary to respond to challenges of COVID-19. Remote operation does not apply to all positions and job functions. In consultation with supervisors, employees will perform their work from home as long as remote work does not compromise college operations. For employees who have job functions that cannot be performed at home, supervisors will work with employees to develop individualized plans. Supervisors should contact their employees to develop plans, assess needs, and arrange for additional training and equipment as needed. Please note that in general, individuals are expected to be available during normal hours, regardless of location. Effective immediately, Eastern is restricting access of the general public to all buildings in all locations.

Students: Eastern will move to an all online course delivery for the remainder of the spring 2020 semester. Classes will resume on March 30. Effective immediately, Eastern has restricted access of the general public to all campus buildings in all locations. For students with limited access to a computer or internet service, Eastern is working on plans to provide access to either computer labs or WiFi services at all teaching sites. Please consult EOSC's COVID-19 website for information regarding library times. The Office of Student Services will continue to help students during this transition time, with appointments encouraged. All college-sponsored events and activities are suspended until further notice. This includes Commencement and Nurse Pinning Ceremonies, athletics, and events hosted by outside organizations on Eastern's campus.

Housing: Eastern strongly encourages all residential housing students NOT to return to campus housing this semester. This includes students in Miller Hall, Johnson Hall, Choctaw Hall and Regents Court. Instructions for Move-Out beginning Monday, March 30 can be found on the EOSC website. Students must make an appointment with the Office of Student Services before arriving on campus to move out (housing@eosc.edu). EOSC will consider limited exceptions to allow students to remain on campus. However, to remain, students must receive approval from the Office of Student Services. The students that will remain on campus until the end of the semester will be moved into EOSC student housing that has independent bathrooms to each bedroom to allow for more isolation while on campus. In these instances, students may be required to be relocated into a different living space. Students are asked to email housing@eosc.edu if they are unable to return home and need to stay on campus. EOSC will provide a pro-rated refund for students moving out of residence halls at this time.

Commencement: The commencement and nurse pinning ceremonies scheduled for May 8, 2020 are cancelled. It was discussed to consider moving the ceremonies to the summer, but with the unpredictable nature of COVID-19, EOSC believes it is necessary to cancel. EOSC acknowledges the accomplishments of their students and wish them the very best on the next opportunity they choose in life. Thank you for choosing to attend Eastern Oklahoma State College!

Travel: Travel for all college-related business or academic purposes (regardless of prepayment) is suspended unless such travel is deemed absolutely critical to the college and approved in advance by the Office of the President. The study abroad program between Eastern and College 360 in Silkeborg, Denmark, has been canceled this year.

Fall 2020 Enrollment: As we move into that time of year for enrollment, we will be putting information on our website for new and current students to enroll remotely for the summer and fall semesters.

Community Support: No updates at this time.

Contact for Health-Related Questions: If you are experiencing flu-like symptoms such as fever, cough and difficulty breathing, call your medical care provider or the Oklahoma State Department of Health's COVID-19 hotline at 877-215-8336 for further instruction. Please avoid contact with others, do not come to campus and do not travel unnecessarily. Students should notify the Office of Student Services (918-465-1818) and employees should notify the Office of Human Resources (918-465-1777) if experiencing flu-like symptoms.

Murray State College (as of April 1)

Employees: Murray State will move to all online course delivery for the remainder of spring semester 2020. Effective Monday, March 30, employees arriving on campus will be directed to go to the front door of Patton Hall and call Campus Police (580-371-1140). This will only take place on weekdays between the hours of 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Employees are asked to stay in their vehicle and Campus Police will come out and take employee temperatures. Murray State will implement a Temporary Remote Operation Plan. This plan will be in effect as long as necessary. Remote operation does not apply to all positions and job functions. In consultation with supervisors, administration recommends that employees perform their work at home as long as remote work does not compromise college operations. For those employees who have job functions that cannot be performed at home, supervisors will develop individualized plans to adhere to creating flexible and asynchronous work schedules, social distancing, and minimizing multi-person meetings.

Students: Murray State will move to all online course delivery for the remainder of spring semester 2020. Murray State College will begin virtual operation on Monday, March 23. Students in current online classes will continue as usual. Students in face-to-face classes will transition to online instruction beginning Monday, March 30. Effective immediately, MSC is temporarily restricting access of the general public to all buildings in all locations. Due to the college response to COVID-19, all services are going online until further notice, including the library and Student Success Center. The MSC Fitness Center will remain closed until further notice. Spring sports competitions and practices have been canceled in light of recommendations by NJCAA. All events either college related or initiated by external groups, are suspended until further notice.

Housing: MSC strongly encourages all students who live in residential housing to vacate campus with move-out dates and times scheduled through the Housing Office. A scheduled time must be set with the Housing Office so that no more than nine are allowed in at a time. Students who do not have access to internet or have other extenuating circumstances are allowed to stay by contacting Housing. Food service has changed to grab-and-go service to accommodate students who have returned as well as for those that will be staying until May.

Commencement: Spring commencement will not take place in May based on recommendations of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention to cancel/postpone large group events. Modifications and options are being discussed and spring graduates and current students will be consulted in developing these plans.

Travel: Travel for all college-related business or academic purposes (regardless of prepayment) is suspended unless such travel is deemed absolutely critical to the college and approved in advance by President McDaniel.

Fall 2020 Enrollment: MSC's Coronavirus Response website contains distance enrollment guides for new and returning students. The MSC Advisement Office is accepting enrollment appointments via zoom or phone for all students. The guides on MSC's website also contain a link for scheduling enrollment appointments. A full week of training was provided to faculty to assist with transitioning to all online classes and staff were provided training to host remote meetings. Contact for Health-Related Questions: NEO campus nurse Jennifer Osburn keeps regular office hours on the first floor of Harrill Hall. She will be available to assist with general health services. Northern Oklahoma College (as of April 6)

Employees: NOC will reopen with modified services Monday, March 30. NOC instruction, for the remainder of the semester, will be conducted in a distance learning environment. Students and employees should regularly check their NOC email and Blackboard accounts for ongoing updates. To further support social distancing and to comply with Governor Stitt's amended executive order on April 1, NOC will be closing all buildings on-campus through April 30 to the public while retaining essential services and functions with modified access. NOC's dedicated staff and faculty will continue to provide services – for some, on-campus work to support essential and mission critical functions, some through safety-controlled environments on campus, some with staggered shifts to align with guidelines for social distancing, and some with telecommuting when the nature of the work allows. Please contact your adviser, department head/supervisor or appropriate campus vice president if building access is needed. The 21-day executive order requires most faculty and staff to transition to full-time telework while still providing services virtually during your normally assigned working hours per week. Faculty will maintain office hours through virtual tools. Employees should make arrangements to pick up necessary equipment, files and office supplies needed to conduct business remotely beginning Monday. Connect with your supervisor for further details. In efforts to support essential and mission-critical functions, the following areas are defined as essential employees:

- Essential employees who will have a combination of telecommuting and some on-campus presence include – Executive Council, IT, HR, Financial Aid, Financial Affairs, Scholarships, Enrollment Management, and Academic Affairs.
- Limited number of essential employees who will have an on-campus presence through safety-controlled environments and staggered shifts to align with guidelines for social distancing – Library/computer lab, Campus Security, Student Affairs, Development and Community Relations, Physical Plant, and Testing.

NOC understands that there will be a need for employees to come to campus every now and then to sign documents, pick up work or transfer work to another employee. However, NOC does not want employees spending lengthy amounts of time on campus. We must do our part to mitigate the spread of this virus. Social distancing will also be practiced at all times, and no more than ten individuals will be allowed in any area at any given time. All common areas and break rooms will be closed. All employees when representing NOC during this transition time are encouraged to be in "Northern Pride" attire. Effective immediately, NOC has implemented a freeze on purchases and hiring without prior administrative approval. For our staff and faculty members over the age of 65 or individuals with serious underlying medical conditions, options for telecommuting will be prioritized for these individuals; however, if there are no options for telecommuting, please know that you will be provided administrative leave, as well as leave provided under the Families First Coronavirus Response Act once enacted. For staff and faculty who are unable to telecommute and are not in an on-campus essential/mission-critical position, administrative leave will be provided until campus is accessible again. Shannon Cranford with HR will contact employees who fall within the age request with further communication. For HR questions or to self-report your serious underlying medical condition, please email Shannon.cranford@noc.edu. This information will remain confidential.

Students: NOC instruction, for the remainder of the semester, will be conducted in a distance learning environment. Students and employees should regularly check their NOC email and Blackboard accounts for ongoing updates.

Services required for student educational operations will still be available virtually or only when necessary by appointment on campus. Classroom instruction will transition to alternative delivery methods beginning March 30. Faculty will reach out through Blackboard to their students on the next steps. Limited library access will be available by appointment. The Wellness Center will be closed for the remainder of the semester. Campus parking lots have Wi-Fi hotspots and students are welcome to sign on there and maintain social distancing by remaining in their vehicle. Limited computer lab access will be available by appointment. All college-related events scheduled to occur prior to May 11 are suspended. NOC will evaluate adding events after May 11 on a case-by-case basis.

Housing: NOC encouraged social distancing for those who returned to campus. Food service has limited hours of operation and only provides to-go meals, thus closing the dining hall areas and the student centers. NOC is encouraging social distancing and limiting persons to assist with move-outs. Students are encouraged to call or email to set up an appointment to retrieve their belongings and check out of the campus housing facility. Appointments have been staggered to keep the numbers in each space below the CDC requirements. NOC is allowing students to move throughout the remainder of the spring semester as to prevent many students from coming back to campus at once. They are working with students who have been quarantined or who have traveled long distances to come back to campus. NOC is not encouraging students to come back immediately to do this. For specific questions regarding housing, contact the Office of Student Affairs at 580-628-6240 (Tonkawa) or 580-548-2227 (Enid). NOC has increased cleaning efforts in their campus housing facilities to help prevent the spread of the virus. Partial refunds will be provided to qualified housing students.

Commencement: NOC is still exploring alternatives for celebrating commencement, nurse's pinnings and academic achievements for graduating seniors. NOC will communicate their plans at a later date when they can better assess the date of campuses reopening.

Travel: Effective immediately, all NOC employees, students, and mission-critical campus visitors/vendors returning from domestic or international travel must complete a self-report form PRIOR to returning to campus, or to being assigned to on-campus College duties. Domestic travel includes any travel outside the state of Oklahoma. These reports can be found on the NOC website.

Several members of the advisory board in need of personal protective equipment for health care workers reached out to TCC faculty regarding the college's supply, and others have posted a call on social media," the college said in a news release Monday. Western Oklahoma State College (as of April 1)

Employees: Effective March 30, 2020, Western implemented a remote work format for the majority of employees. In consultation with supervisors, employees will perform their work from home as long as remote work does not compromise college operations. For employees who have job functions that cannot be performed at home, supervisors will work with employees to develop individualized plans. In general, individuals are expected to be available during normal hours, regardless of location. 25, WOSC will begin to expedite plans to completely close the campus by the end of business on Friday, March 27 at 4:30 p.m. The Western campus is closed to the public. All schedule activities have been cancelled until further notice.

Students: Western has moved exclusively to virtual delivery for the remainder of the spring 2020 semester. Students are encouraged to communicate regularly with their instructors and make use of a wide variety of resources that are available online (<https://www.wosc.edu/index.php?page=covid19#updates>). Two computer labs will be available for student use and will be open Wednesday, April 1 for WOSC students only. Hours of operation will be Wednesdays and Thursdays, 9 a.m. – 7 p.m. Enter through the HLC sliding door entrance on the south side of the main building. No children will be allowed and please do not come if you have a cough, fever, or have potentially been exposed to COVID-19. Fall 2020 Enrollment: The early enrollment opening date of March 26 has been postponed. During these unprecedented times, our focus is serving our current students and ensuring they have the tools necessary to succeed in a virtual environment. Information regarding summer and fall enrollment will be made available at a later date.

University Centers

University Center at Ponca City (as of March 27)

Students: With many of UC's partners moving all remaining instruction online for the remainder of the semester, the UC remains open to help those students who do not have access to reliable internet or computers to continue their studies. The UC will open Monday-Thursday, 8 a.m. – 7 p.m. and until 4 p.m. on Fridays. The UC is limiting students to one person per computer lab and asks that each person sanitize and wipe their areas as they come in contact with disinfectant. The courier will run on Tuesdays and Thursdays for the foreseeable future. At this time, the UC is unable to meet with the general public but can provide assistance by phone or email. Students are encouraged to reach out to their college adviser and ensure they have a plan for summer and fall classes. Please call the UC if assistance is needed, or if students want to take their classes at Ponca City.

Programs: The UC is planning to offer parents three different options for LEGO robotics this spring. Option 1: A full refund. Parents wishing for a full refund must complete the necessary forms and it generally takes 6-8 weeks to issue a check from the State of Oklahoma. Please call the UC if a full refund is desired. Option 2: A waiver to attend one of UC's summer or fall robotics sessions free of charge. Option 3: Checking out a LEGO robotics kit for at home virtual learning this semester. Parents will be notified of their options by phone or email.

University Center of Southern Oklahoma (as of March 30)

Students: Starting Wednesday, April 1st, access to the UCSO main building will be by appointment only. Please let us know at least one day in advance if you will need to get into the building to access your computer, phone, or materials. You may also teach classes from the building during regular hours, which will be 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on weekdays. Once again, if there are compelling reasons for exceptions we will try to accommodate them. Please notify Peggy Maher, President/CEO or Kim Price (kprices@ucso.osrhe.edu or 580-465-1440) to let them know when you need in and how long you expect to be there. The UCSO will not be able to allow students in the building to access internet, but we have tried to extend the WiFi network outside a little farther. Students should be able to pick it up from the picnic tables on either end of the building, the benches in the circle, and the parking places nearest the Learning Center in the back parking lot.
